port Demand Increases Price. BAD WEATHER PROSPECTS AFFECT CORN

Dovering by Shorts Advances Price of Oats and Provisions Are Firm Under Leadership of Lard.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—An improved demand for cash wheat, together with a larger export business, were the principal factors in creating a better tone in the wheat pit today, and December closed with an advance of 14c. December corn was up $46%, onts were 14c higher and January provisions closed from 75c to 15c higher.

In spite of the rather bearish character of news in general, an inclination was shown among local traders to buy wheat, in the hope of an upturn after so long a period of depression, and as a resuit of this improved demand a firm un-crous prevaded the pit. Shorts and con airsion houses were fair buyers at the start, influenced to some extent by reports of smaller receipts in the northwest, and December opened unchanged to 3c higher at 16675%. Offerings were light early in the day, and further advances were made. Toward the noon hour prices eased off somewhat on heavy selling by a prominent operator, which was followed by sales from scattered sources, but the demand was sufficient to prevent any marked decline. During the latter half of the session there was a big demand for May from a house with St. Louis connections and the strength of this delivery helped the December price. The cash business was also reported as showing an improvement, and with a good export demand the market became strong during the last half hour, with closing prices at the top. December closed 3c higher at 76%c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 23,400 bu. Primary receipts were 14i4.600 bu. against 115,000 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 196 cars, which, with local receipts of wheat and flour for the week equal to 850,500 bu., against 4,40,000 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of the three points of 88 cars, against 12i last week and 634 a year ago. The situation in the corn pit was similar to that in wheat, local traders favoring by shorts, with covering by shorts, and some of the strength. After selling heaven 41cc and 424c December up a cat 33%c. Local receipts were 16id.

ST. PAUL STOCK MAD : OBJECT OF ATTACK

All Stocks Subjected to Attention from Bear Party Made Recovery as Soon as Direct Pressure Was Released.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A movement to cover shorts amongst the professionals developed in the stock market today and carried prices to a level substantially over last night. This was after the failure of an attempt of the present bear party to crive prices to a lower level. The activity of this party has been very apparent all through the week's decline, but they found themselves practically alone in selling stocks today and finally gave up their policy. Their plan or operations seemed to be a kind of rotation of stocks. Having sold United States Steel preferred and Pennsylvania as far down as within their power they picked out St. Paul today as the next leading stock upon which to center operations. The result was an extreme decline in St. Paul of 1% points. The rest of the market was very little affected in sympathy. As a result of the late covering movement St. Paul regovered all of its loss and the most prominent active stocks gained between 1 and 2 points. Pennsylvania especially was inclined to raily from its recent severe depression. The volume of its dealings was about in proportion to its recent severe depression. The volume of its dealings was about in proportion to its recent severe depression. The volume of its dealings was about in proportion to its recent relative activity in the market, but the total sales in that stock and the aggregate sales of all stocks fell considerably below the recent average. Today's gain for Pennsylvania is 2 full points. United States Steel preferred completely lost its recent pre-eminence in the trading and fell low in the list of active stocks. The buying seemed confined to professional sources and there was no evidence of any large investment demand. Neither was there any news to account fully for the advance in prices.

The bank statement is expected to be not entirely unfavorable. Reports that the railroads would concede a reduction of export freight rates for steel products may have strengthened the United States Steel preferred, although this news is indicative of the NEW YORK, Nov. 12 -A movement to Small lots of gold were reported in London for export and indications are that more can be had.

New York Mining Quotations. NEW YORK, Nov. 13.-The following are exchange rates. There was a belief in some quarters that the Bank of England's advance in rates may be advanced, but the general belief is that it has only been deterred. This, with the shipments of gold to the United States, perpetuates the state of unsettlement, although it is hoped to be possible to divert the demand to France. On the stock exchange a better tone prevailed. The dealings, however, were insignificant owing to fears of dearer money. Uncertainty regarding the bank rate produced stagnation. The market, being prepared for an advance, disliked the bank's decision to make no change. Consols were weak, but reacted later. Americans were weak and raillied to a fraction above parity and then became quiet. Nervousness regarding possible transatiantic developments retarded operations. The market closed steady.

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "There is no change in the local wool market. It is quiet and waiting. Holders are not forcing supplies at concessions, as stocks are small and cannot be replaced, while the promise is that all will be wanted before the new clip is available next spring. Still there has been a fair business this week in Montana wool at full previous prices, while the demand for all grades of socured wools is good. Quite a movement in B super wools is reported. Advices from abroad are conflicting, but the general tone is easier. At Bradford the operators are said to have declined 1 per cent. Offerings at Melbourne have contained little as yet suitable for America. From Buenos Ayres comes the news that prices are not likely to decline. Across the water an effort is being made to bear the primary markets in Australia and South America. The shipments of wool from Boston to date, from December 31, 1992, are 204,557,164 pounds, against 238,835,342 pounds at the same date last year. Receipts are 27,418,134 pounds last year. CATTLE-There was a moderate run of cattle here this morning, but the trains were slow in arriving, so that the market did not come to a very early close. Traddid not come to a very early close. Trading was not very active on most lines and prices held steady to a little lower.

There were quite a good many cornfed steers on sale considering the size of the total receipts. Packers, though, took hold of them in fairly good shape and the market could safely be quoted steady. Warmedup cattle of course sold rather unevenly, but on the average they brought as good prices as they did yesterday and in fact some salesmen who had medium grades thought the market was, if anything, a little stronger.

thought the market was, if anything, a little stronger.

The cow market was slow and in most cases $\overline{6}\overline{1}\o week ago, though the decline is not at all serious.

There was not much of any change in bulls, veal calves and stags from yesterday. The feeder market was very slow this morning and prices generally a little lower. There are still a good many cattle in the hands of speculators and unless the demand is heavier tomorrow than is generally the case on a Saturday, quite a few cattle will have to be carried over Sunday. The demand from the country has been very disappointing all the week and as a result prices have been going steadily downward.

Western range beef steers were so scarce this morning that a test of the market was not made. It would be safe, though, to quote desirable grades steady. Cows and stockers and feeders fluctuated as noted above. Representative sales:

SHEEP—There was a light run of sheep here this morning and very few of those that were on sale were good enough for fillers. Packers all had liberal orders to fill and as a result the market on anything that would do to kill could be quoted active and strong. Owing to the light receipts the market came to a close at an early hour.
